Dear Comcast Customer,

Comcast is committed to bringing you high-quality, reliable cable television service and providing exceptional entertainment value. This year, we are investing in upgrading the cable system in your community so that we can bring you more advanced video services, more convenience and greater choice and control. This project will occur in two phases.

The first phase will occur on August 18, 2010 and will include changes to our Limited Basic and Standard Basic channel lineup in your area. The changes will impact your viewing on television sets connected to Comcast digital devices, authorized CableCARDS or digital-capable equipment (A-cable) and are necessary to bring improved products and services.

If you have televisions connected directly to the wall outlet (B-cable), you will not see changes to the lineup on these televisions at this time. Those televisions connected to a Comcast digital device, authorized CableCARD or digital-capable equipment will experience significant lineup changes, mostly channels repositioning to new locations. Please see the enclosed "Channel & Service Level Change Grid" and new "Channel Lineup" for additional information and details on the changes that will occur on August 18, 2010.

If you currently use an analog cable box to view your services, please know that these boxes will no longer be compatible with our system as of August 18, 2010. As a result, you will need to remove the connection to the box and connect the cable from the wall outlet directly to the back of your TV's cable input or you can swap your analog box for a digital set-top box to continue viewing all the channels you receive today. Comcast digital set-top boxes are available at a standard monthly price, depending on service level.

The second phase will occur later this year as we enhance our network even more by transmitting channels exclusively in digital format to bring your community greater improvements in service, more HD programming, more On Demand titles and more choices. Upon completion of this network enhancement, we will be converting to a single cable system, eliminating the dual cable currently in your home (A/B-cable). At this time no action is required by you related to this second phase – watch for more information in the next few months regarding the impact this will have to your television viewing.

Questions?

As a reminder, these changes will occur on August 18, 2010. If you have questions or would like to know more about Comcast products and services, please contact us at 1-800-441-8011 or visit www.comcast.com/michigan. Our team members will be happy to assist you. We have also enclosed some "Frequently Asked Questions" that may assist in answering any questions you may have.

Thanks for being a Comcast customer.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. How is my channel lineup changing?

A. Please refer to the Channel Change Grid on the reverse side for details on the channels impacted, including their current and new locations.

Q. How can I find my new channel lineup?

A. We have enclosed a new channel lineup listing for your reference. If you need additional channel lineup information, there are several ways to obtain or view your new channel lineup. You may go to www.comcast.com/michigan or visit your local Comcast office where a channel lineup card will be provided to you. You can also call us at 1-800-441-8011 and request a channel lineup card. After August 18, 2010, if you have a digital set top box, the interactive channel guide will contain your new channel lineup and can be displayed by simply pressing "Guide" or "OK/Select" on your Comcast remote control.

Q. Do I need any new equipment?

A. If you are using a Comcast digital device or authorized CableCard you do not need new digital equipment. When the channels are realigned, you will have access to all the same programs and channels on your digital devices or CableCard as you do today.

If you currently use an analog cable box, after August 18, 2010 you may no longer receive all the services you currently receive. Analog cable boxes are no longer compatible with the system after this date. You can swap your analog cable box for a Comcast digital set-top box. Comcast digital set-top boxes are available at a standard monthly price, depending on service level. There are a few options available to assist you in receiving your new equipment:

1. Mail: Comcast can send new digital equipment directly to you via a Self Installation Kit at a one-time charge of $9.95 (shipping and handling) by calling 1-800-441-8011.
2. Pick Up: You can return your analog cable box to our local Service Center located at 4500 Delermere Boulevard, Royal Oak, Michigan 48073, and pick up new digital equipment via a Self Installation Kit.
3. Technician Installed: Call 1-800-441-8011 to set up a technician visit to professionally install new digital equipment (installation charges apply).

Should you need to return any Comcast equipment, please return it to your local Comcast Service Center listed on your billing statement. If you have an analog cable box that you no longer use or will be replacing with digital equipment, you may return it at your convenience. Please note that there is no charge for unreturned analog equipment. We recommend that you return the analog equipment to any Comcast Service Center, check with you local municipality for disposal options of electronic equipment or visit www.mygreenelectronics.org to find a local recycling center near you.

Q. Will I have to reprogram my Comcast remote?

A. No. Your remote control will not need to be reprogrammed or swapped out.

Q. Will my scheduled DVR recordings be affected?

A. The change in channel lineup will not affect your scheduled recordings if they are set to record a specific program. If you have a manual recording set for a specific channel number and time of day, you may need to update the schedule with the new channel number.

For example, if you have scheduled your DVR to record The Today Show every time it airs, the change in channel location will not affect this recording. However, if you have set a recording on your DVR to record channel 34 from 7am-10am every day – you will need to update that recording with the new channel number once the realignment is complete.

Q. Will the Parental Controls I've set be affected?

A. Parental controls will not be affected by the channel realignment. Any content blocked by channel, program or rating will carry over to the new channel location. There will be no need to make any changes or updates to the parental controls already set on your digital set top box.

Q. Will the channels I've marked as "Favorites" be saved?

A. When selecting your 'favorites' within the interactive channel guide, you are actually selecting the specific network, and not the physical channel number. So, if you have selected 'favorite' channels, once the channel realignment occurs, you will not need to reprogram anything. Your digital set top box will automatically take you to your saved channels in their new channel number locations.

Q. What is a dual cable system?

A. A dual cable system means that there are two (2) cable coaxial lines that come into the home. These two lines are defined as A and B cable.

- A-cable provides the digital cable and HD channels available on the lineup. In addition, this side also supports CDV and internet service. If you are using Comcast digital equipment or an authorized CableCARD, you are connected to the A-cable. Upon channel realignment, the A-cable will contain all Limited and Standard Basic channels. TVs need to tune to STD or CABLE when connected to the A-cable direct after August 18, 2010. This cable will become the primary cable into the home.
- B-cable provides analog channels only and is used when the cable from the wall outlet is connected directly to the back of the TV (no digital equipment is used). No changes will occur to the B-cable with the upcoming channel realignment.

Q. How do I determine if my TV is connected to the A-cable or the B-cable?

A. The easiest way to determine which cable side your TV is connected to is by doing a channel review:

- For TVs connected directly to cable, turn to channel 3 on your TV.
 - If Paid Programming is viewable, then your TV is connected to the A-cable side.
 - If the channel displays TV20 WDWB, then your TV is connected to the B-cable side.
- For TVs connected via a Comcast digital device, your TV is connected to the A-cable via the digital device.

Q. Why are you doing this change in two phases?

A. Comcast is conducting the upgrade to its network in two separate phases to minimize the disruption to its customers. We want this transition to a more advanced network to be a positive experience for our customers.

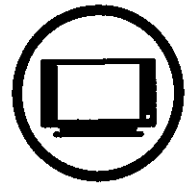

Q. What is the network enhancement you mention in phase 2 and how will that impact me?

A. For the Comcast Digital Network Enhancement, we will be upgrading our network to provide channels in a digital format with digital-quality signals on all TVs connected to Comcast service. This conversion will improve picture quality, allow us to offer over 3,000 HD choices and enable us to provide our customers with access to over 17,000 On Demand titles. In addition, our enhanced network will enable us to deliver faster Internet access speeds and enhanced home phone service. This means you will need digital capable equipment to view video channels. When the Digital Network Enhancement starts in your area, we will notify you with letters and postcards about the upgrade and impacted channels in your area.
